Japanese Flowering Crabs (Malus)

FRAGRANT, DAINTY, DELIGHTFUL

Showiest and Most Gorgeous Spring Flowering Shrubs

Small ornamental trees or large shapely shrubs, coming as they do into a gorgeous showy mass of exquisite flowers in early spring, followed by gay and ornamental fruit, which persists far into the winter, producing a cheerful effect and attracting the birds.

The great profusion of large double fragrant flowers, almost obscuring the branches, gives the effect of clothing the shrub in shimmering transparent gauze. They are used largely in groups, high shrub borders or single specimens on the lawn, for their profuse early bloom, their dense glossy, handsome foliage which colors richly and their ornamental fruits present a picture of oriental splendor. They will grow in any ordinary garden soil and will amply repay special attention and cultivation with quicker and more luxuriant growth.

We offer you three of the most desirable and widely different varieties.

Large Specimen 3 Year Old Plants $1.50 each:
One each of the 3. $3.00.

MALUS THEIFERA (Tea Crab)—A small tree with stiff spreading branches, covering itself with handsome rose pink flowers which are very fragrant. The blooms are followed with round showy fruit, light greenish yellow with reddish cheek; foliage is oval, deep green, glossy and aromatic, hence its name "Tea Crab," for the people of Japan dry the leaves and brew them into a drink.

MALUS PURPUREA ELEYI—A new variety of great beauty having very large deep flowers followed by an abundance of yellowish green fruits. Foliage and wood is deep rich purplish red, enhancing the beauty of the flowers and fruits and rivaling the Japanese Red Maple. Very profuse bloomer, literally covering itself with a mass of bloom.

MALUS SCHEIDECKERI—Is also a very early bloomer, producing huge masses of flowers, bright rose colored (even on very young plants) in an upright bottlebrush formation on the stems, followed with an abundance of ornamental fruit.

JAPANESE IRISES (Kaempferi)

PLANT NOW FOR SUMMER BLOOM

Colorful—Striking—Artistic—Distinctive

Their magnificence is indescribable as the great size of the flowers is noteworthy and their wonderful coloring seems to embrace every tint and shade in the rainbow, forming the most vivid and fascinating combinations. A mass of them in bloom is a most gorgeous sight as their striking beauty and strange oriental flowers can never be forgotten. Their tall slender bladed deep green foliage is graceful and decorative and lends itself beautifully to landscape effects. They are fascinating planted around the garden pool or in front of tall growing shrubbery or in mass where they present a picture as richly hued as a marvelous tapestry. They come into bloom usually in July and the secret of successful growth is to keep the ground well stirred, never allowing it to bake. They will thrive in any good garden soil.

ABELIA GRANDIFLORA
BUSH ARBUTUS—BROADLEAVED EVERGREEN

From May till frost the graceful arching branches are covered with clusters of tubular shaped white flowers faintly tinted pink. The leaves are small, lance shaped and glossy green with metallic sheen at the approach of winter. It is particularly useful as specimens, for hedges, or in groupings for mass plantings around foundations or elsewhere. Ultimate height, 4½ to 5 feet, but if the long tender shoots are pinched back during the growing season, the plant becomes very dense and compact. It may be kept quite dwarf by trimming.

ARTEMISIA — Silver King

Something New and Different—A Plant of Rare Beauty for Landscape or Cut Flowers

For landscape effect from early summer until late winter, it is the most outstanding plant we have ever seen. Its bright silver-colored stems and foliage blend harmoniously with other foliage or blooming plants and its rich striking beauty in form and color is first to attract attention regardless of its surroundings.

For beautiful airy foliage to combine with cut flowers, it has no equal, as it does not wilt or shatter off and can be carried dry indefinitely without losing its color. When used with sparkling pink flowers, such as Radiance Roses, the effect is both indescribable and irresistible. The foliage matures early in the summer and quickly hardens to a state when it can be cut and used without moisture. It thrives in ordinary soil, growing to a height of about three feet in almost perfect symmetrical form. The stems are well branched and thickly covered with bright silver colored foliage, delicate and lacy like. It belongs to the perennial class, producing its entire new growth from the roots each year.

Hugonis—The Golden Rose of China

Blooms Three Weeks Earlier Than Other Roses
A unique species, as it is ornamental as a shrub, either to mass or as single specimens. For a beautiful hedge it is unequalled; it produces numerous arching and drooping sprays which are lined on both sides to the very tip with closely-set wide-open flowers of the most gorgeous golden-yellow crepe-like blooms. After blooming, the pale-green foliage on curious red-brown twigs, turns to soft purple. Hugonis long remains an object of beauty, as it retains its finely veined and delicately cut miniature leaves until the ground is frozen.

Hugonis—"The Golden Rose of China"

F. J. Grootendorst—"The Baby Rambler Rugosa Rose"

Showy — Everblooming — Hardy
Worthy of a prominent exhibition, either as a single specimen or massed; or, kept about 4 feet high. It makes a remarkable everblooming hedge. It possesses the erect, spiny stems and tough curiously wrinkled foliage the notable vigorous and healthy growth of the rugosa family and all of the continuous blooming habit of the polyantha family. Small, daintily fringed flowers of bright red in large clusters are produced throughout the growing season.
